I. Introduction

1. The European Union's extensive experience in designing, implementing, enforcing and monitoring restrictive measures (sanctions) in the framework of the CFSP¹ has shown that it is desirable to standardise implementation and to strengthen methods of implementation. These guidelines² address a number of general issues and present standard wording and common definitions that may be used in the legal instruments implementing restrictive measures. However, they do not address the political process leading to the decision to impose or repeal such restrictive measures³.

Moreover, the EU has developed Best Practices on Effective Implementation of Financial Restrictive Measures⁴, where recommendations are given for an effective implementation of restrictive measures in accordance with applicable legislation.

http://ec.europa.eu/external_relations/cfsp/sanctions/index_en.htm

² First version of the guidelines was adopted by the Council on 8 December 2003 (doc. 15579/03); an updated version was agreed on 1 December 2005 (doc. 15114/05).

³ As regards policy aspects, it is recalled that the Council on 14 July 2004 adopted basic principles on the use of restrictive measures (sanctions) (doc. 10198/1/04).

II. Principles

A. Objectives

2. Within the framework of the Common Foreign and Security Policy, the Council may decide to impose restrictive measures against third countries, entities or individuals. These measures must be consistent with CFSP objectives, as set out in Article 21 of the Treaty on European Union (TEU).
3. Certain restrictive measures are imposed by the Council in implementation of Resolutions adopted by the UN Security Council under Chapter VII of the UN Charter. In the case of measures implementing UN SC Resolutions, the EU legal instruments will need to adhere to those Resolutions. However, it is understood that the EU may decide to apply measures that are more restrictive.
4. In general terms, restrictive measures are imposed by the EU to bring about a change in policy or activity by the target country, part of country, government, entities or individuals, in line with the objectives set out in the CFSP Council Decision. Accordingly, the EU will repeal/adapt the restrictive measures as a function of positive developments in light of its objectives. Where possible and consistent with the European Union's overall strategy towards the third country concerned, the legal instruments imposing restrictive measures may refer to incentives to encourage the required change in policy or activity. It will be important to ensure that such incentives do not reward non-compliance.
5. The objective of each measure should be clearly stated and consistent with the Union's overall strategy in the area concerned. Both the overall strategy and the specific objective should be recalled in the introductory paragraphs of the Council legal instrument through which the measure is imposed. The restrictive measures do not have an economic motivation.

6. The legal instruments will be subject to regular review in order to assess the efficiency of the adopted restrictive measures with regard to the objectives stated. The review will be conducted by the relevant Council working parties and committees, on the basis of EU Heads of Mission reports where relevant.

B. Legal issues

7. As indicated above, the Council imposes restrictive measures within the framework of the CFSP. The Council first adopts a CFSP Decision under Article 29 of the TEU. The measures foreseen in that Council Decision are either implemented at EU or at national level. Measures such as arms embargoes or restrictions on admission are implemented directly by the Member States, which are legally bound to act in conformity with CFSP Council Decisions. Other measures interrupting or reducing, in part or completely, economic relations with a third country, including measures freezing funds and economic resources, are implemented by means of a Regulation, adopted by the Council, acting by qualified majority, on a joint proposal from the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy and the Commission, under Article 215 of Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union. The European Parliament has to be informed. Such Regulations are binding and directly applicable throughout the EU, and they are subject to judicial review by the Court of Justice and the General Court in Luxembourg. CFSP Council Decisions providing for restrictive measures against natural and legal persons are also subject to judicial review.
8. When imposing restrictive measures, the legal context of the measures should be set out. In addition to relevant provisions of the Treaty on European Union and the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, this may include references to any relevant UN Security Council resolution, or other applicable provisions of international law. For reasons of clarity and transparency, efforts should be made to present these references as fully as possible.

9. The introduction and implementation of restrictive measures must always be in accordance with international law. They must respect human rights and fundamental freedoms, in particular due process and the right to an effective remedy. The measures imposed must always be proportionate to their objective.
10. As indicated above, the restrictive measures should, in particular, be drafted in light of the obligation under Article 6(3) TEU for the EU to respect fundamental rights, as guaranteed by the European Convention on Human Rights and as they result from the constitutional traditions common to the Member States, as general principles of Union law.
11. The restrictive measures should also respect the international obligations of the Union and its Member States, in particular the WTO Agreements. The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and on Trade in Services (GATS) apply when restrictive measures affect trade in goods or services with third countries. Article XXI of GATT allows for import and export restrictions which are either applicable to arms and military equipment, or imposed in pursuance of obligations under the United Nations Charter for the maintenance of international peace and security. Article XIV bis of GATS provides for a similar exception. Measures restricting trade which do not fall under these categories have to meet the conditions laid down in Article XX of GATT and Article XIV of GATS, respectively, and, in some cases, could be incompatible with WTO rules.
12. If EU measures are in conflict with the international obligations of the Union or its Member States, a common approach for dealing with such conflicts may have to be developed.
13. When deciding on restrictive measures it is important to consider which measure or package of measures is most appropriate.

C. Targeted measures

14. The measures taken should target those identified as responsible for the policies or actions that have prompted the EU decision to impose restrictive measures. Such targeted measures are more effective than indiscriminate measures and minimise adverse consequences for those not responsible for such policies and actions.
15. The measures used against a particular regime will vary depending on the objectives of the restrictive measures and their likely effectiveness. They include, inter alia, freezing of funds and economic resources, restrictions on admission, arms embargoes, embargoes on equipment that might be used for internal repression, other export restrictions, import restrictions, and flight bans. A ban on the provision of financial services, including in connection with bans on the export of certain products, has also been used as well as investment bans.
16. In designing and implementing its legal instruments, the EU can draw on its own experience in designing and implementing restrictive measures regimes and on the work carried forward in other fora, e.g. the Interlaken, Bonn – Berlin and Stockholm processes, as well as the experiences of the UN in this field.

D. Lists of targeted persons and entities

17. The listing of targeted persons and entities must respect fundamental rights, as stipulated by the Treaty on European Union. In particular, due process rights of the persons and entities to be listed must be guaranteed in full conformity with the jurisprudence of the Court of Justice of the European Union, inter alia with regard to the rights of defence and the principle of effective judicial protection.

18. The decision to subject a person or entity to targeted restrictive measures requires clear criteria, tailored to each specific case, for determining which persons and entities may be listed, which should also be applied for the purpose of removal from the list. These clear criteria will be set out in the CFSP legal instrument. This applies in particular with regard to measures freezing funds and economic resources, both where persons are listed in the framework of measures against one or more third states, as well as where measures target individuals and entities in their own right.
19. A series of recommendations has been approved for dealing with country-specific EU autonomous sanctions or EU additions to UN sanctions lists which cover issues concerning the stating of reasons, notification and informing about the right to make views known as well as practical issues for listings and de-listings. For ease of reference, these recommendations are reproduced as annexes to the present document.⁵
20. In cases where CFSP Council Decisions provide for restrictive measures targeting not only those responsible for certain policies or actions, but also members of their families, their children under 18 should not, in principle, be targeted.
21. Persons, entities or organisations targeted by financial sanctions should be clearly identified in the Annex in order to make sure that the scope of the sanctions is defined precisely.

⁵ European Union autonomous/additional restrictive measures (sanctions):
- Recommendations for dealing with country-specific EU autonomous sanctions or EU additions to UN sanctions list - document 7697/07 endorsed by COREPER on 17.4.2007;
- Recommendations for dealing with country-specific EU autonomous sanctions or EU additions to UN sanctions list - document 11054/07 endorsed by COREPER on 27.6.2007.

22. Identifying information is crucial to ensure that targeted restrictive measures do not impact on non-targeted persons and entities, in particular to assist the private sector to implement such measures. It cannot be excluded that in some cases the funds of a person will be frozen or admission will be refused, where this was not intended, due to identifiers that match with those of a designated persons. Member States and the Commission should have procedures in place that ensure that their findings on claims concerning alleged mistaken identity are consistent. The EU Best Practices on Effective Implementation of Financial Restrictive Measures⁶ give some recommendations to that end.
23. In order to improve the effectiveness of restrictive measures, as many specific identifiers as possible should be available at the moment of identification and published at the moment of adoption of the restrictive measures. Identifying information for individuals and entities should be standardised as far as possible. With regard to natural persons listed the information should aim to include in particular surname, first name, alias, sex, date and place of birth, nationality and address, identification or passport number. With regard to groups, legal persons or entities the information should aim to include in particular the full name, principal place of business, place of registration of office, date and number of registration. A model template is attached to these Guidelines.

24. The EU should strive in all cases to ensure that the identifying information provided at the time of the inclusion of a person on a list should be sufficiently precise to allow for an unambiguous identification of the targeted person. After designation of a person or entity, a constant review of identifiers should take place in order to specify and extend them, involving all those who can contribute to this effort, in particular the EU Heads of Mission in the third country concerned, Member States' competent authorities and agencies and financial institutions. Updates of the lists with additional identifying information will be adopted as provided for in the basic act.
25. In order to assist the private sector to implement financial restrictions the Commission launched in June 2004 a website which provides, inter alia, a consolidated list of persons and entities subject to financial sanctions ⁷ and an overview of the restrictive measures in force ⁸.

E. Exemptions

26. It is important that the legal instruments on financial restrictions, restrictions on admission and other restrictive measures make provision for appropriate exemptions to take account of in particular humanitarian needs of targeted persons, extraordinary expenses such as legal fees or, where applicable, international obligations, including as host nations of international organisations or the OSCE, with regard to the various restrictive measures taken.
27. The competent authorities should grant exemptions on a case by case basis, which will allow them to assess all interests concerned and to impose conditions to ensure that the exemptions do not frustrate or circumvent the objective of the restrictive measure. The exemptions should be granted on the basis of the relevant legislative instruments. If there are grounds to grant an exemption from one restrictive measure (e.g. financial restrictions) this does not by default justify granting an exemption from another measure (e.g. restrictions on admission) which affects the person or entity concerned (cf. section III: A, D and E).

F. Exchange of information and reporting requirements

28. The competent authorities of the Member States and the Commission each have specific tasks as regards the implementation and application of the restrictive measures. In order to ensure that such measures are applied in a coherent manner, exchange of relevant information between all concerned, in accordance with the provisions of each CFSP Decision and Regulation, is essential. The EU legal instruments should make provision for such exchange. Member States are invited to communicate to the Council Secretariat and to the Commission data collected in applying these exemptions in order to improve the quality of the identifiers referred to above.
29. When Regulations implementing restrictive measures make provision that specific tasks are to be carried out by competent authorities of Member States, the authorities designated as competent by each Member State are either listed in an Annex to the Regulation, or indicated in an indirect way by listing in an Annex to the Regulation the web-pages of each Member State where information about its relevant competent authorities can be found.

G. Expiration or review of restrictive measures⁹

30. Taking the specific objective of each measure and all other relevant considerations into account, the Council should keep the situation under review and schedule a specific review whenever the political context has changed.
31. Where it is considered appropriate, specific criteria that have to be met for repeal of the restrictive measures can be set out in the legal instrument, but normally proper definition of the specific objective of the measure will be sufficient.

⁹ The paragraphs in this section primarily deal with EU autonomous sanctions. For the implementation of UN decided sanctions, see under H. below, in particular paragraph 42.

32. When the criteria or specific objectives of the measure have not been met the restrictive measures should continue, except in cases where the Council decides otherwise. The CFSP legal instrument should therefore either have an expiration date or a review clause, as decided by the Council, so as to ensure that the need for renewal of restrictive measures is discussed within an appropriate period of time. The expiration or review date could be decided taking into account relevant facts and considerations (e.g. dates of future elections or peace negotiations which might bring about a change in the political context).
33. If the CFSP legal instrument sets out an expiration date for restrictive measures the Council should develop an understanding about their renewal. To be effective restrictive measures should be lifted according to their objectives, not according to time limits. The time limit therefore would be an occasion to revisit the restrictive measures regime and to assess whether the objectives have been met.
34. In cases where the CFSP legal instrument contains an expiration date, the need for an expiration date in Regulations implementing the CFSP legal instrument should normally be avoided:
- since the Regulations implement the CFSP act, they have to be repealed, if the CFSP legal instrument ceases to be applicable¹⁰. Regulations should be repealed at the same time as or immediately after the CFSP legal act ceases to apply. If, in exceptional cases, the Regulations have to be repealed with retroactive effect, it is desirable that this time period is kept as short as possible.
 - if a subsequent CFSP legal instrument renews the measures, amending the expiration date of the Regulation or adopting a new one containing the same legal provisions constitutes a mere administrative burden which should be avoided. Especially where last minute decisions on renewal are made, there may be a period during which the measures are not applicable pending amendment or adoption of a Regulation.

It is, therefore, preferable to have the Regulation continue in force, until it is repealed.

¹⁰ See Article 215 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union.

35. For the sake of clarity and transparency, the adoption of a consolidated text¹¹ should be considered in cases where CFSP Decisions or Regulations have been amended at least three times.¹²

H. Implementation of UN Security Council Resolutions

New measures

36. The UN Charter grants the Security Council powers to decide in a manner binding for all UN members¹³ which restrictive measures have to be taken in order to maintain or restore international peace and security, if there is a threat to the peace, a breach of the peace, or an act of aggression. It is important that the EU implement such UN restrictive measures as quickly as possible. Speed is particularly important in the case of asset freezes where funds can move quickly. In such cases, each Member State could consider the possibility of interim national measures with regard to financial measures. The EU should aim to have the necessary implementing legislation in place without delay and within 30 days of the adoption of the UNSC Resolution at the latest. In cases in which the Commission has received a mandate to update lists of targeted persons or entities annexed to Council Regulations, it should aim to adopt the respective Commission Regulations within three working days after the adoption of the updated UN lists.
37. EU members of the UN Security Council will seek to ensure that, to the greatest extent possible, and without prejudice to their responsibilities under the UN Charter, EU concerns and implementation needs are taken into consideration when negotiating the UNSCR in question, in accordance with Article 34 TEU.

¹¹ The adoption of a consolidated text would have the effect of recommencing the deadline for bringing legal challenges to the act.

¹³ See Article 25 and Chapter VII of the UN Charter.

38. The current legislative procedure requires the adoption of a CFSP legal instrument and an implementing Council Regulation based on the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, based on a joint proposal from the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy and the Commission.
39. In the past, the Commission has in several cases presented a proposal for a Council Regulation immediately after adoption of the Security Council Resolution, but before adoption of the CFSP legal instrument. This approach enables the Council to adopt the CFSP legal instrument and the Regulation at the same time, but it should be noted that it requires that the Commission receives all relevant information on the draft Resolution prior to adoption of the Security Council Resolution so as to give it sufficient time to assess to what extent and subject to which terms and conditions the measures should be implemented by means of a Council Regulation. Similar arguments will apply to the drafting of the CFSP legal instruments.
40. Standard wording for legislative texts will be conducive to more rapid implementation of UN restrictive measures. When the EU implements UN restrictive measures the use of standard wording and common definitions must be adapted to the UNSC Resolution.
41. In order to provide EU missions in New York with regular information on the issues encountered in the implementation of UN restrictive measures in the EU, feedback notes will be brought to the attention of EU missions meeting in the framework of the Article 34 coordination in New York. A regular dialogue between EU missions in Brussels and New York and EU and UN Institutions should be encouraged, including through joint seminars, in order to enhance understanding of the issues involved. The circulation to EU missions in Brussels of reports from the sanctions meetings held in New York within the framework of the Article 34 coordination are important in this regard.
42. In view of the binding nature of UN Security Council Resolutions, the effective implementation of UN measures requires immediate legislative action. A specific situation exists when the Security Council decides on measures which expire on a particular date.

In such a situation, the use of an expiry date in the EU legal acts is not appropriate since the Security Council will normally renew the measure just before the expiry date. However, an indication should be given that the measures will be amended or repealed, as appropriate, in accordance with determinations made by the Security Council.

Expiration or repeal of measures

43. It is equally important to repeal restrictive measures swiftly in response to UN decisions on this point. Where the EU applies restrictive measures in implementation of Security Council Resolutions only, it is not proper for the implementing legal instruments to remain in place when the Security Council has decided the measures should be lifted.

Exemptions

44. Chapter VII UNSC Resolutions are mandatory under international law. In the case of EU implementation of restrictive measures decided by the Security Council through a resolution, it will therefore only be possible to include exemptions if they are in line with the Resolution. In this respect, paragraph 36 is relevant, including with regard to humanitarian exemptions for the purpose of satisfying basic needs of targeted persons.

Reporting

45. In cases where UN Security Council Resolutions provide for a reporting obligation, a common EU report to the UN could also be submitted on the measures taken at EU level. In such cases, national and common reporting would be complementary.

I. Competences

46. The purpose of the CFSP legal instrument is to state which restrictive measures are considered necessary to meet its objectives and provide the basis for an action by the European Union to interrupt or to reduce economic or financial relations with the third country in question.

The Union can adopt legislative implementation measures through a Regulation based on Article 215 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union. Where the Union has no competence it is up to each of the Member States to adopt the necessary legislation or implementing measures.

47. Where restrictive measures are being considered, a case by case assessment needs to be made of the European Union competence, taking into account the attribution of powers to the Union provided for in the Treaties. The practice is that the Council indicates in the CFSP instrument that "Further action by the Union is needed to implement certain measures" to enable the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy and the Commission to propose a Regulation implementing the measures falling within the remit of the Union. Where precision is needed to ensure that all measures are implemented in time, the CFSP instrument should indicate expressly how each measure or part of measure will be implemented.
48. Where the European Union has the necessary competences to adopt a Regulation implementing the restrictive measures, it provides that Member States must lay down rules on penalties applicable to infringements of the provisions of the Regulation and take all measures necessary to ensure that they are implemented.

J. Jurisdiction

49. The EU has condemned the extra-territorial application of third country's legislation imposing restrictive measures which purports to regulate the activities of natural and legal persons under the jurisdiction of the Member States of the European Union, as being in violation of international law¹⁴. Accordingly, it will refrain from adopting legislative instruments having extra-territorial application in breach of international law.

¹⁴ Regulation (EC) No 2271/96 and Joint Action 96/668/CFSP of 22 November 1996 protecting against the effects of the extra-territorial application of legislation adopted by a third country, and actions based thereon or resulting therefrom (OJ L 309, 29.11.1996, pp. 1 and 7).

III. Standard wording for legal instruments

The standard wording set out in this Chapter should be used for all relevant legal instruments concerning EU restrictive measures, except if it is necessary to use different wording in order to implement a UN Security Council Resolution correctly.

The standard provisions on exemptions should be adapted, where appropriate.

A. Definitions

For the purposes of EU restrictive measures, the following definitions will apply. Further definitions will be worked out as necessary.

50. The term "technical assistance" shall mean¹⁵:

"any technical support related to repairs, development, manufacture, assembly, testing, maintenance, or any other technical service, and may take forms such as instruction, advice, training, transmission of working knowledge or skills or consulting services; technical assistance includes verbal forms of assistance".

51. Over the years freezing of funds has been ordered, and bans on making funds available to listed persons and entities have been imposed, based on the following definitions:

"funds" means financial assets and benefits of every kind, including but not limited to:

(a) cash, cheques, claims on money, drafts, money orders and other payment instruments;

(b) deposits with financial institutions or other entities, balances on accounts, debts and debt obligations;

(c) publicly- and privately-traded securities and debt instruments, including stocks and shares, certificates representing securities, bonds, notes, warrants, debentures and derivatives contracts;

¹⁵ Joint Action 2000/401/CFSP (OJ L 159, 30.6.2000, p. 216).

- (d) interest, dividends or other income on or value accruing from or generated by assets;*
- (e) credit, right of set-off, guarantees, performance bonds or other financial commitments;*
- (f) letters of credit, bills of lading, bills of sale;*
- (g) documents evidencing an interest in funds or financial resources.*

"freezing of funds" means preventing any move, transfer, alteration, use of, access to, or dealing with funds in any way that would result in any change in their volume, amount, location, ownership, possession, character, destination or other change that would enable the use of the funds, including portfolio management.

52. The following definitions have been used by the Council regarding the freezing of economic resources and could continue to be used in EU legal instruments, as appropriate.

"economic resources" means assets of every kind, whether tangible or intangible, movable or immovable, which are not funds but can be used to obtain funds, goods or services.

"freezing of economic resources" means preventing their use to obtain funds, goods or services in any way, including, but not limited to, by selling, hiring or mortgaging them."

53. The term "dual use good" shall mean:

"items, including software and technology, which can be used for both civil and military purposes, and shall include all goods which can be used for both non-explosive uses, and assisting in any way in the manufacture of nuclear weapons or other nuclear explosive devices"¹⁶

¹⁶ Art 2(1) of Council Regulation (EC) No 428/2009 of 5 May 2009 (OJ L134, 29.5.2009, p.1).

B. Arms embargoes

Equipment covered by the embargo

54. There is a need for a uniform EU regime when imposing an arms embargo. Common Position 2008/944/CFSP¹⁷, adopted on 8 December 2008, defines the criteria Member States apply for their exports control policy concerning arms. For this purpose a common list of military equipment was agreed in 2000¹⁸. Unless otherwise specified, arms embargoes should be interpreted as covering at least all goods and technology on the EU Common List of Military Equipment.
55. The common list of military equipment does not include items which can be used for both civil and military purposes. Exports of such dual-use items are controlled in accordance with Council Regulation (EC) No 428/2009¹⁹. This Regulation foresees that, in deciding whether or not to grant an export authorisation, the Member States shall take into account, inter alia, their obligations under sanctions imposed by a legal instrument adopted by the Council or by a decision of the OSCE or by a binding resolution of the Security Council of the United Nations.

By its very nature (dual-use) a number of the goods listed have entirely legitimate applications e.g. cryptographic products used in banking, equipment that can be used in hospitals, factories, universities, offshore oil fields. An outright ban might thus have implications that go well beyond the initial objective and be wholly inappropriate. In most cases, a ban on exports of dual-use items, including when they would be used for civil purposes, is, therefore, likely to be disproportionate unless applied with qualifications and scope for appropriate exemptions (evidence of legitimate purpose).

¹⁸ List attached to Council Declaration of 13 June 2000, issued on the occasion of the adoption of the common list of military equipment covered by the European Union code of conduct on arms export, OJ C 191, 8 July 2000. An updated version of the list, adopted by the Council on 23.02.2009, has been published in OJ C 65, 19.03.2009, p. 1.

¹⁹ OJ L 134, 29 May 2009, p. 1.

If an embargo on such items is nevertheless considered appropriate, the legal instrument should refer to the common list of dual-use items attached to Regulation (EC) No 428/2009.

56. Standard wording for a provision imposing an arms embargo could read:

“The sale, supply, transfer or export of arms and related materiel of all types, including weapons and ammunition, military vehicles and equipment, paramilitary equipment and spare parts for the aforementioned, to (country) by nationals of Member States or from the territories of Member States or using their flag vessels or aircraft, shall be prohibited whether originating or not in their territories.”

Technical assistance and other services relating to military activities

57. When imposing an autonomous EU embargo on arms, including weapons and ammunition, military vehicles and equipment, paramilitary equipment, and spare parts for the aforementioned, a prohibition on providing technical assistance relating to such equipment should normally also be provided. In addition, a ban on financing of or providing financial assistance for arms exports could strengthen the arms embargo.

58. Wording of a standard article could be as follows:

CD + Reg.

“It shall be prohibited:

- (a) to provide technical assistance, brokering services²⁰ and other services related to military activities and to the provision, manufacture, maintenance and use of arms and related materiel of all types, including weapons and ammunition, military vehicles and equipment, paramilitary equipment, and spare parts for the aforementioned, directly or indirectly to any natural or legal person, entity or body in, or for use in (country);

²⁰ Council Common Position 2003/468/CFSP of 23 June 2003 on the control of arms brokering (OJ L 156 of 25.6.2003, p. 79).

- (b) to provide financing or financial assistance related to military activities, including in particular grants, loans and export credit insurance, for any sale, supply, transfer or export of arms and related materiel, or for the provision of related technical assistance, brokering services and other services directly or indirectly to any person, entity or body in, or for use in (country).
- (c) to participate, knowingly and intentionally, in activities the object or effect of which is to circumvent the prohibitions referred to at points (a) or (b)."

Exemptions

- 59. It may be appropriate to allow exemptions to the ban on exports of arms and related equipment for humanitarian purposes as, in post-conflict areas, certain types of controlled equipment can make important contributions to the safety of the civilian population and to economic reconstruction. These exemptions should normally be limited to non-lethal military equipment and to exports of protective clothing for personal use. They may include de-mining equipment and materiel intended for institution building, as appropriate.
- 60. It is desirable that exemptions on exports of non-lethal military equipment, like all others, be dealt with on a case-by-case basis, taking full account of the criteria set out in the Code of Conduct and other EU texts and legal instruments. Member States will require adequate safeguards against misuse of such exports and, where appropriate, provisions for repatriation of the equipment.
- 61. Standard wording for a provision on exemptions to bans on exports of arms and related equipment could read:

"1. Article ... shall not apply to:

- a) the sale, supply, transfer or export of non-lethal military equipment intended solely for humanitarian or protective use, or for institution building programmes of the UN and the EU, or for EU and UN crisis management operations;*

- b) the sale, supply, transfer or export of demining equipment and materiel for use in demining operations;
- c) the provision of financing and financial assistance related to such equipment or to such programmes and operations,
- d) the provision of technical assistance related to such equipment or to such programmes and operations, on condition that such exports have been approved in advance by (competent authority)."

62. In cases where there is a UN or EU institution building programme or an EU or UN crisis management operation which would also require the export of lethal equipment, the above provision would need to be complemented with the addition of "and materiel intended for..." in indent a).

As appropriate, institution building programmes and crisis management operations conducted by regional and sub-regional organisations may be added to the exemption in indent a).

In the case of UN institution building programmes, the sale, supply, transfer or export of such materiel could be subject to approval by the relevant UN Sanctions Committee.

63. Standard wording for a provision on protective clothing could read as follows:

"Article ... shall not apply to protective clothing, including flak jackets and military helmets, temporarily exported to (country) by United Nations personnel, personnel of the EU or its Member States, representatives of the media and humanitarian and development workers and associated personnel for their personal use only."

C. Restrictions on equipment used for internal repression and other specific imports or exports

64. If a policy of internal repression is at the basis of the imposition of restrictive measures, a ban on exports and related services, such as maintenance and repair, of certain equipment is appropriate. EU legal instruments could refer to or use an agreed list when deciding an embargo on exports of items that could be used for internal repression. A list is annexed which, if the Council so decides, defines the scope of the specific export restriction for equipment which might be used for internal repression²¹.

65. Standard wording for restrictions on equipment used for internal repression could read:

"It shall be prohibited:

- a) to sell, supply, transfer or export, directly or indirectly, equipment which might be used for internal repression as listed in Annex I, whether or not originating in the Union, to any natural or legal person, entity or body in, or for use in [name of state];*
- b) to provide technical assistance related to the equipment referred to at point (a), directly or indirectly to any natural or legal person, entity or body in, or for use in [name of state];*
- c) to provide financing or financial assistance related to the equipment referred to at point (a), directly or indirectly to any natural or legal person, entity or body in, or for use in [name of state];*
- d) to participate, knowingly and intentionally, in activities the object or effect of which is to circumvent the prohibitions referred to in points (a), (b) or (c).*

²¹ The list focuses on items which might be used for internal repression and which are very close to items listed in the EU Common Military List; it does not cover items listed in the EU Common Military List; it does not cover items controlled by Regulation (EC) No 1236/2005 (the "Anti-Torture-Regulation"). With respect to problems in defining an adequate borderline between controlled equipment and equipment typical for consumer or leisure type activities, the list contains no entries for goods which may belong to standard consumer and leisure time activities.

66. Other lists such as a list of petroleum and petroleum products have been developed within the EU framework²². Future lists defining the scope of specific export or import control regimes may constitute a useful reference for specific export or import bans, if it is considered necessary to ban all trade of the specific, controlled category in relation to a particular country, in order to achieve the objectives of the CFSP. The lists of goods which are subject to a specific export/import ban could, if appropriate, be described taking into account the descriptions used in Council Regulation (EEC) No 2658/87. If this is not possible and if appropriate, the goods could be described in a way which allows the correlation with the descriptions used in Council Regulation (EEC) No 2658/87.

67. The exemptions from such measures should be sufficient to allow humanitarian action where appropriate and to take full account of the objective of the restrictive measures.

D. Restrictions on admission (visa or travel ban)

68. Several CFSP legal acts foresee a ban on admission of specific nationals of third countries that are listed in an annex to the legal instrument.

69. Regulation (EC) No 539/2001 lists the third countries whose nationals must be in possession of visas when crossing the external borders and those whose nationals are exempt from that requirement²³. Third country nationals specified in CFSP Decisions as subject to a travel ban and who need a visa to enter the EU will not be granted a visa if they apply for one. They must in any event be denied entry if they present themselves at an external border. Where no visa requirement exists, or a long term visa or residence permit has been issued, restrictions on admission may require national action²⁴.

²³ OJ L 81, 21.3.2001, p. 1. The list was last amended in 2003; see Regulation (EC) No 453/2003, OJ L 69, 13.3.2003, p. 10.

²⁴ Discussions are currently ongoing regarding the creation of an electronic consolidated list of persons subject to a EU travel ban.

70. Standard wording for an article regarding a visa/travel ban and exemptions therefrom could read as follows:

1. "Member States shall take the necessary measures to prevent the entry into, or transit through, their territories of the persons listed in the Annex, (indication of criteria/categories, if not already specified in the text);
2. Paragraph 1 will not oblige a Member State to refuse its own nationals entry into its territory.
3. Paragraph 1 shall be without prejudice to the cases where a Member State is bound by an obligation of international law, namely:
 - (i) as a host country of an international intergovernmental organisation;*
 - (ii) as a host country to an international conference convened by, or under the auspices of, the United Nations; or*
 - (iii) under a multilateral agreement conferring privileges and immunities; or*
 - (iv) under the 1929 Treaty of Conciliation (Lateran pact) concluded by the Holy See (State of the Vatican City) and Italy.*
4. Paragraph 3 shall be considered as applying also in cases where a Member State is host country of the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE).
5. The Council shall be duly informed in all cases where a Member State grants an exemption pursuant to paragraphs 3 or 4.
6. Member States may grant exemptions from the measures imposed in paragraph 1 where travel is justified on the grounds of urgent humanitarian need, or on grounds of attending intergovernmental meetings, including those promoted by the European Union, or hosted by a Member State holding the Chairmanship in office of the OSCE, where a political dialogue is conducted that directly promotes democracy, human rights and the rule of law in (country).

7. A Member State wishing to grant exemptions referred to in paragraph 6 shall notify the Council in writing. The exemption will be deemed to be granted unless one or more of the Council Members raises an objection in writing within two working days of receiving notification of the proposed exemption. In the event that one or more of the Council members raises an objection, the Council, acting by a qualified majority, may decide to grant the proposed exemption.
8. In cases where pursuant to paragraphs 3, 4, 6 and 7, a Member State authorizes the entry into, or transit through, its territory of persons listed in the Annex, the authorization shall be limited to the purpose for which it is given and to the persons concerned thereby."

71. It is understood that where a person who is subject both to an asset freeze and to a travel ban receives an authorisation granted by a Member State pursuant to paragraphs 3, 4, 6 and 7 of the above standard Article, Member States are not obliged to seize funds carried by that person and which that person may reasonably require for the purpose of the visit for which he has received that authorisation.

E. Financial restrictions

72. Standard wording for freezing of funds through legal text based on Article 215 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union could read:

- "1. All funds and economic resources belonging to, owned, held or controlled by [individual members of the Government of (country) and] any natural or legal person, entity or body [associated with them]²⁵ as listed in Annex (X) shall be frozen.
2. No funds or economic resources shall be made available, directly or indirectly, to or for the benefit of natural or legal persons, entities or bodies listed in Annex (X)."

²⁵ These parts of the text may, in some cases, not be applicable (e.g. in the case of measures targeting terrorists).

Exemptions

73. Standard wording for an article containing exemptions from the freezing of funds and the prohibition of making funds or economic resources available could read:

"1. The competent authority may authorise the release of certain frozen funds or economic resources or the making available of certain funds or economic resources, under such conditions as it deems appropriate, after having determined that the funds or economic resources concerned are:

- (a) Necessary to satisfy the basic needs of persons listed in Annex (X) and their dependent family members, including payments for foodstuffs, rent or mortgage, medicines and medical treatment, taxes, insurance premiums, and public utility charges,*
- (b) intended exclusively for payment of reasonable professional fees and reimbursement of incurred expenses associated with the provision of legal services,*
- (c) intended exclusively for payment of fees or service charges for routine holding or maintenance of frozen funds or economic resources,*
- (d) necessary for extraordinary expenses, provided that (competent authority) has notified the grounds on which it considers that a specific authorisation should be granted, to (the other competent authorities and the Commission) at least two weeks prior to the authorisation."*

Member States shall inform the other Member States and the Commission of any authorisation granted under this article.

2. Article .. (the prohibition against making funds or economic resources available) shall not apply to the addition to frozen accounts of:

- (a) interest or other earnings on those accounts; or*
- (b) payments due under contracts, agreements or obligations that were concluded or arose prior to the date on which those accounts became subject to the provisions of this Decision /Regulation and* provided that any such interest, other earnings and payments continue to be subject to Article .. (freezing of funds and economic resources of listed persons and entities)."

74. Standard wording for an article on the crediting of frozen accounts could be the following:

Reg.

"Article ...(Reference to Article prohibiting making funds or economic resources available to listed natural or legal persons, entities or bodies) shall not prevent the crediting of the frozen accounts by financial or credit institutions that receive funds transferred by third parties to the account of the listed person, entity or body, provided that any additions to such accounts will also be frozen. The financial or credit institution shall inform the competent authorities about such transactions without delay."

75. Standard wording for a specific article containing exemptions from the freezing of funds and the prohibition of making funds or economic resources available when these funds or economic resources are subject to a prior judicial, administrative or arbitral lien could read:

"By way of derogation from Article ... (the requirement to freeze funds and economic resources), the competent authorities of the Member States, as listed in Annex (Y) , may authorise the release of certain frozen funds or economic resources, if the following conditions are met:

(a) the funds or economic resources are subject of a judicial, administrative or arbitral lien established prior to ... (date of entry into force of the Regulation) or of a judicial, administrative or arbitral judgment rendered prior to that date;

(b) the funds or economic resources will be used exclusively to satisfy claims secured by such a lien or recognised as valid in such a judgment, within the limits set by applicable laws and regulations governing the rights of persons having such claims;

(c) the lien or judgment is not for the benefit of a person, entity or body listed in Annex (X);

(d) recognising the lien or judgement is not contrary to public policy in the Member State concerned.

The competent authority will inform the competent authorities of the other Member States and the Commission of any authorisation granted under this Article.”

F. Jurisdiction

76. The standard clause setting out to what extent the restrictive measures should apply in situations where links exist with the EU as well as with other members of the international community could read:

Reg.

"This Regulation shall apply:

- within the territory of the Union, including its airspace;*
- on board any aircraft or any vessel under the jurisdiction of a Member State;*
- to any person inside or outside the territory of the Union who is a national of a Member State;*
- to any legal person, entity or body which is incorporated or constituted under the law of a Member State;*
- to any legal person, entity or body in respect of any business done in whole or in part within the Union."*

G. Infringements

77. The Regulations imposing restrictive measures contain provisions regarding penalties to be taken in case of infringement. Standard wording for this issue:

Reg.

- "1. The Member States shall lay down the rules on penalties applicable to infringements of the provisions of this Regulation and shall take all measures necessary to ensure that they are implemented. The penalties provided for must be effective, proportionate and dissuasive.*
- 2. The Member States shall notify these rules to the Commission without delay after entry into force of the Regulation and shall notify it of any subsequent amendment."*

78. It is desirable that the restrictive measures are implemented as soon as possible. To that end, Member States shall aim at having in place the rules referred to in the paragraph above within 30 days, following their respective national procedures. The Member States could also consider adopting national rules which set sanctions for infringement of Regulations imposing restrictive measures which will apply by default.

H. Expiry/Review

CD

79. Standard wording for an expiration clause in the case of EU autonomous sanctions could read:

“This Decision shall apply for a ... period. It shall be kept under constant review. It shall be renewed, or amended as appropriate, if the Council deems that its objectives have not been met.”

80. Standard wording for a review clause in the case of EU autonomous sanctions could read:

CD

“This Decision shall be reviewed ... after its adoption and every ... thereafter. It shall be repealed if the Council deems that its objectives have been met.”

81. Standard wording for an amendment/repeal clause in the case of implementation of UN Security Council resolutions

CD

“This Decision shall be amended or repealed as appropriate, in accordance with determinations made by the Security Council.”

IV. Monitoring and evaluation of restrictive measures

82. The effectiveness of EU restrictive measures – and also the EU’s credibility – hinges to a large degree on restrictive measures being implemented and enforced promptly and without exceptions in all Member States. In order to ensure adequate follow-up to EU decisions to impose restrictive measures, a specific Council body has been set up dedicated to exchanging experience and developing best practice in the implementation and application of restrictive measures. Thus the Foreign Relations Counsellors Working Party meets regularly in its specific 'Sanctions formation' (RELEX/Sanctions), reinforced as necessary including with experts from capitals. The mandate of the Relex/Sanctions formation is the following²⁶:

- Exchanging information and experiences on the implementation of specific restrictive measures regimes imposed by the EU;
- Contributing to developing best practices among Member States in implementation of restrictive measures;
- Collecting all information available on alleged circumvention of EU restrictive measures and other international sanctions regimes of interest to the EU by targeted states, persons and entities;
- Exchanging information and experience, including with third states and international organisations as appropriate, on the implementation of international sanctions regimes of interest to the EU;
- Assisting in evaluating the results and difficulties in the implementation of restrictive measures regimes;
- Exchanging views on ways and means to ensure the efficiency of management of restrictive measures regimes, including of their humanitarian provisions;
- Examining all relevant technical issues relating to the implementation of EU restrictive measures.

The Relex/Sanctions formation has notably identified EU best practices for effective implementation of financial restrictive measures²⁷.

²⁶ Mandate of RELEX/Sanctions is set out in doc. 5603/04.

²⁷ 8666/1/2008 REV 1.

83. Both the CFSP legal instruments and the EC Regulations should provide for regular reporting on the implementing measures and enforcement actions taken by Member States to give effect to the restrictive measures. Monitoring at EU level should enable a more consistent assessment as to whether the restrictive measures are having the impact they need to be effective. This is crucial where autonomous measures are at issue, since it provides the basis for decisions on the need for improvement of legal texts and, to some extent, for those on the usefulness of maintaining the measures.

ANNEX I

European Union autonomous/additional restrictive measures (sanctions) Recommendations for dealing with country-specific EU autonomous sanctions or EU additions to UN sanctions list

Recommendations endorsed by COREPER on 17 April 2007 (doc. 7697/07)

I. Stating Reasons

Purpose: to state the reasons, as concretely as possible, why the Council considers, in the exercise of its discretion, that the person, group or entity falls under the criteria defined by the basic legal act.

Recommendation: Individual and specific reasons must be given. They should, in principle, be set out as concisely as possible in a separate column in the Annex to the legal act containing the list of the persons, groups and entities designated.

II. Notification

Purpose: to inform the party concerned about the actual and specific reasons justifying the listing, on the basis of the criteria and motivation set out in the basic legal acts. This will also enable the party concerned to effectively make known its views on these reasons.

Recommendation: As a general rule, following the recommendation under para 1 above, individual and specific reasons will be stated in a separate column in the Annex to the legal act listing the persons, groups and entities. Notification will thus be effected through publication in the Official Journal, and will therefore be automatic.

However, where in exceptional circumstances the reasons for the listing cannot be included in the Annex to the published legal act, because of considerations of privacy or security, then those reasons will be set out in a separate, unpublished document. In such a case the reasons should be notified by other means, e.g. by letter informing the persons, groups and entities individually. Where this is not possible (because no address is available) a notice should be published in the C-series of the Official Journal on the same day as the publication of the legal act in question informing them that the Council will transmit the reasons for their listing to them on request.

III. Informing about the right effectively to make views known

Recommendation: The persons, groups and entities concerned should be informed about their right effectively to make their views known. This could be done by publishing a notice in the C-series of the Official Journal on the same day as the publication of the legal act in question. This notice could also contain information on the possibility for each person, group or entity concerned to challenge the Council's decision before the Court of First Instance.

In the exceptional cases where the persons, groups or entities concerned are informed about their listing by way of individual notification, this letter should also inform them of these options.

IV. Processing requests-for-delisting

Recommendation: Individual requests for delisting should be processed, when they arrive, in accordance with the applicable legal instrument and EU Best Practices for the effective implementation of restrictive measures²⁸. If the Council Secretariat receives such requests, it should forward them to the competent Council working group for consideration.

²⁸ Para 19 in doc. 10533/06.

Recommendations endorsed by COREPER on 27 June 2007 (doc. 11054/07)

Practical recommendations for listings and de-listings in respect of country-specific EU autonomous sanctions or EU additions to UN sanctions

Proposals for listings/de-listings

1. Proposals for listings or de-listings in respect of country-specific EU autonomous sanctions or EU additions to UN sanctions should be submitted by the Presidency or delegations, inter alia taking account of the advice provided by Heads of Missions located in the country(ies) concerned, where appropriate. In principle they should be distributed by COREU, with the appropriate level of classification, for discussion in the relevant regional working party.
2. Proposals for autonomous listings or additional listings to UN sanctions should be clear and unequivocal. In particular they shall aim to include sufficient details (identifiers) so that the listing decision - once it has entered into effect - can be effectively implemented by economic operators and national authorities (e.g. banks, consulates). With regard to natural persons listed the information shall aim to include in particular surname, first name, alias, sex, date and place of birth, nationality and address, identification or passport number. With regard to groups, legal persons or entities the information shall aim to include in particular the full name, principal place of business, place of registration of office, date and number of registration. A model template (taken from the Sanctions Guidelines) is attached to these Recommendations.²⁹
3. It is primarily the responsibility of those submitting the proposal to provide such identifiers. Other delegations should contribute to this process. Input from HoMs located in the country(ies) concerned will be requested, where appropriate.

²⁹ In this respect, it is highlighted that entry of data into the Schengen Information System (SIS), necessary for effective implementation of visabans, requires the availability of sufficient details (identifiers).

Reasons for listing and notification of the listing

4. Proposals for autonomous listings or additional listings to UN sanctions should include individual and specific reasons for each listing, where the intended sanctions include an asset freeze. It is the responsibility of those submitting the proposal to provide such reasons. Input from the Heads of Missions located in the country(ies) concerned will be requested, where appropriate.
5. These reasons should, in principle, be set out as concisely as possible in a separate column in the Annex to the legal act containing the list of the persons, groups and entities to be listed. As this act will be published in the Official Journal, these reasons should be capable of being made public. Notification is effected through publication in the Official Journal.
6. In exceptional cases, where it is considered that the reasons for the listing are not suitable for publication, because of considerations of privacy and security, the reasons will need to be notified (e.g. by letter) to the person, group or entity concerned. Where this is not possible (because no address is available) a notice should be published in the C-series of the Official Journal on the same day as the publication of the legal act in question informing them that the Council will transmit the reasons for their listing to them on request.

Additional information

7. Additional information in support of new proposals, with the appropriate level of classification, may be submitted to the Presidency for distribution by the Council Secretariat. The information provided should meet the criteria set out in the basic legal act (Common Position).
8. A copy of the material circulated will be stored in a centralised archive, to be set up for this specific purpose³⁰.

³⁰ Within DG E Coordination Unit

Deliberations of the working party

9. If necessary, the competent regional working party may be reinforced by experts from other Council working parties.
10. The deliberations of the working party should be confidential. This is particularly important in cases where the restrictive measures concern the freezing of assets. Once a listing decision has been taken by the Council, it will be published in the Official Journal.
11. The Presidency will organise meetings of the working party as and when necessary; alternatively, the Presidency could ask for approval of the proposed listings by a silence procedure (at working party level).

Informing about the right effectively to make views known

12. The persons, groups and entities concerned should be informed about their right effectively to make their views known, where the sanctions include an asset freeze. This should be done by publishing a notice in the C-series of the Official Journal on the same day as the publication of the legal act in question. This notice will also contain information on the possibility for each person, group or entity concerned to challenge the Council's decision before the Court of First Instance. A model notice is attached in Annex II.
13. In the exceptional where the persons, groups or entities concerned are informed about their listing by way of individual notification (see paragraph. 6). This letter will also inform them of these options.

Review of the list(s)

14. Review of the list of designated persons, groups and entities should take place at regular intervals and in accordance with the provisions of the relevant legal act.

Processing requests-for-delisting

15. Individual requests for delisting should be processed, when they arrive, in accordance with the EU Best Practices for the effective implementation of restrictive measures³¹.
16. The General Secretariat of the Council will act as a mailbox for de-listing requests. Any such requests are to be forwarded in writing to the Council of the European Union (cf model notice in annex II).
17. When the Council Secretariat receives such requests, it will forward them to the competent Council working party for consideration.

Further tasks of the General Secretariat of the Council

18. The General Secretariat of the Council (relevant desk officer, in collaboration with DGE Coordination Unit) will manage communications with designated persons, groups and entities exclusively in writing and assist the Presidency in following up any requests for reconsideration by designated persons, groups or entities, as well as assist the Presidency in preparing each review of the list in accordance with the provisions of the relevant legal act.
