11515/00 JAI 92 DROIPEN 40

All delegations stated their desire for the European Union to have a corpus of legislation in the field of combating crimes against the environment. A majority of them stated that such legislation should take the form of an autonomous instrument, while others felt that this requirement could be met by the 1998 Convention of the Council of Europe, which should be ratified without reservations.

The Commission pointed out that there were provisions on the matter under the first pillar, and that these should be taken into consideration in the discussions under way.

   The Netherlands delegation informed the Council that the Global Forum on Fighting Corruption II would be held at The Hague from 28 to 31 May 2001. It thanked the current and future Presidencies for the initiatives taken within the Council bodies in preparation for this important conference.
